Love, a simple word on paper
Just 4 letters, yet so much power
Using in a sentence like “I love her”
U convey so much emotion

Happiness, that’s what it brings
Joy is filling all my heart
Falling was never so easy
Now i want her to be mine

Hey my friend, and you, my neighbour
Let me tell you how i feel
It’s so special, yet so simple
Sometimes i forget it’s real

Just a glimpse of her enjoying
All the life she has in her
All the beauty that she’s holding
Makes me fall in love again

All that happiness she has
Is contagious, you can’t escape
You just can’t oppose to smile
When you see her pretty face

I would use all of my time

Looking at her like a painting

For she is the Mona Lisa

To my Leonardo life
